

SCRATCH-RESISTANT LIGHT DIRECTING FILMABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A scratch-resistant light directing film has a structured surface with first and second prism elements. The first prism elements are taller than the second prism elements and have blunt tips. The second prism elements are shorter and have sharp tips. The resulting film is scratch-resistant without substantially sacrificing gains in on-axis light.

G:\BENSOC\PATFILE\M550-12.57\APP.DOC